French to Occupy Ruhr if Germany Fails to Pay May 1

BERLIN'S COUNTER PROPOSALS STUDIED BY U. S. CABINET.
DECISION SECRET
New Offer Considered Unacceptable Even as Basis for Discussion.

Paris.—Germany's new reparations propositions as made public Tuesday are considered here as unacceptable even as a basis for discussion, according to well informed opinion close to the French foreign office.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Paris.—The possibility of applying penalties to Germany immediately after May 1, despite whatever negotiations Germany may make regarding reparations in general, is being seriously considered, according to well informed French circles. Such action would be because of the German refusal to transfer one of the billion gold marks to the Rhine-Ruhr or hand over the equivalent of that sum as demanded by the reparations commission.

It is held in French official circles that the failure of Germany to pay the balance of the 20,000,000,000 gold marks due May 1, under the terms of article 227 of the treaty of Versailles, is entirely independent of the negotiations regarding the sum total of the reparations she must eventually pay.

It is semi-officially stated that the French feel unable longer to allow infractions of the treaty to remain without penalty. They are convinced that it is declared that the Germans are only seeking to delay the execution of all of the clauses of the treaty in the hopes that the allies may divide among themselves the spoils of the war.

After hearing the premier's statement, the cabinet voted confidence in the government by a vote of 424 to 29, with 55 deputies abstaining from voting.

PROPOSALS DISCUSSED BY HARDING'S CABINET
Washington.—The German counter proposals on reparations discussed by the cabinet Tuesday at the regular meeting of President Harding's cabinet, but if any decision was reached the fact was carefully concealed.

There is not a day that goes by that someone does not come into the Gazette office and inquire for rooms. GUN TOTER, GIVEN 6 MONTHS, ESCAPES FROM COUNTY JAIL

WENDT RUNS AWAY WHEN SENT BY SHERIFF OUT TO MOW LAWN.

FACES LONG TERM
Breaking Parole Recognized as Serious Crime as Break-Jail.

Aubrey Wendt, one of the three youths arrested here and convicted of carrying concealed weapons, is missing from the Rock county jail, having escaped when let out to work around the jail yard Monday evening. Thus far he has eluded the authorities in southern Wisconsin and northern Illinois who are searching for him.

Wendt was a jail in default of a $100 fine. Although he made several efforts to have the fine paid and appealed to his father, no one offered to pay.

He was allowed some liberties around the jail and on Friday was put to work at the home of S. G. Dunneville, district attorney. He returned to the jail and was allowed to clean up the jail yard. On Monday afternoon he was given the task of mowing the jail lawn. Some time later in the afternoon Wendt disappeared, making a safe escape.

No one apparently saw him leave the jail yard, attired in working clothes. His disappearance was discovered late in the afternoon by Sheriff Cash Whipple, and police were notified in near-by cities.

In the eyes of the law, his running away from the jail yard is the same as breaking from the jail. Under existing law the sheriff is authorized to place any prisoner at work and escape while under parole can be punished by a prison term.

Expected Fine Money.
The jail was committed to the jail April 20 and in event his fine was not paid, a six months' jail sentence was provided by Judge Harry L. Maxwell. Wendt has been in Rock county jail but his home is said to be in St. Antonio, Texas. At one time he worked in Janesville in several restaurants.

He was arrested along with Archie Burton and Frank Shafer when the Janesville police found five loaded revolvers in a big touring car owned by Shafer, the son of a wealthy Rock county farmer.

After two paid their fines and after their release promised to aid Wendt get out of jail.

Wendt evidently was on good behavior in his previous escapes or he would not have been allowed to leave the jail. He was not sent to Sheriff Whipple he took a chance to escape.

CITY MARKET BILL PASSED IN SENATE
Kleist Measure for Municipalities to Buy Storage Houses Is O. K'd.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Madison.—Municipal marketing was brought a step nearer reality Tuesday morning by passage of the Kleist bill permitting cities to acquire and operate publicly owned markets. The measure has been declared by Attorney General William Morgan to be proper legislation on the ground that it would allow expenditure of public money for a private purpose.

This is one of three municipal marketing bills before the legislature, two others being before the municipalities committee of the assembly. Assemblyman Mark Cullen withdrew a bill of his following the ruling of Attorney General Morgan.

Jevelly valued at over $750 would be taxed in Wisconsin as a result of concurrence in the Johnson bill by the senate. Personal property tax is to be levied on valuables which will be assessed on the tax rolls at the same time other assessments are made.

The senate passed the Czerwinski bill permitting former soldiers who received cash benefits to be allowed the educational bonus during the time they had been in school, and before they have returned the cash bonus.

Repeal of the federal excess profits tax was opposed by the assembly when it passed Assemblyman A. M. Miller's resolution memorializing congress to retain the surplus laws and to kill sales tax legislation.

The American aviator while serving with the Poles in their operations last summer against the Bolsheviks, disappeared behind the Soviet lines in Galicia, on July 12. He was feared to be a prisoner of war, but he had been made since to obtain his release, but without success.

Captain Cooper's airplane was brought down by German soldiers belonging to General Rudenka's forces.

CITY TO LAY CAR RAILS AND PAY FOR PAVING ROAD-BED

ORPHAN TRACTION LINES TO GET AID IN PRESENT CRISIS.

WANT PAVING LAID
Council Anxious to Finish Franklin Street Job—Interurban Line to Pay up Later.

Through unofficial action taken by the council meeting in a special informal session in the city hall Monday night, the city of Janesville will extend a liberal helping hand to the orphan traction lines of the city.

Under an agreement reached, the traction company will furnish the track material, rails, ties and bolts, whereupon the city will lay the rails, and then bill the amount due against the traction company. The company only has to pay that part of the paving cost that is in excess of what a paving would cost in event the street car tracks were not on South Franklin street.

It was a hotbed of discussion that the council considered Monday night. Some action was necessary in order to assure the paving of South Franklin street. Both the Janesville Traction company and the Rockford & Interurban company were declared insolvent and according to the city made it decidedly clear that the only revenue the two subsidiary traction concerns have or could get, is what patrons pay in the pay-as-you-enter street car buses.

City Cannot Loan Aid.
With this legal block ahead of them, the council, led by Mayor Thomas E. Walsh, sought another solution. The city attorney, Dougherty, and Manager Sparks, evidently left the council in a sympathetic mood toward the traction companies. There were several anxious glances over the heads of the council members.

Residents Flee; Heavy Rains Put Homes in Danger

Storm Sweeps Southeastern Part of State; Heavy Loss in Milwaukee; Railroad Tracks Are Washed Out.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Milwaukee.—Floods threatened several parts of Milwaukee Tuesday and residents of the south shore faced the loss of their homes through continued crumbling of the shore as the result of the rains of the last 24 hours and the weather forecasters' predictions of continued downpours Tuesday and Tuesday night, although the overcast sky had checked its imminent downpour up to midday.

The Menominee river to the west reached flood tide early Tuesday but started to recede shortly after the rain stopped. "Kilgusville" and Center City residents, near the city, who are plagued each spring by the rising Menominee, prepared for the flood tide.

Kitchen Walk Off.
At the home of Martin Blenski, on the south side, all of the kitchen fell over the cliff, forming its foundation, Monday night, leaving the dining room exposed. Mr. Blenski and other nearby residents prepared to abandon their homes Tuesday. It was feared that if the storm continues even a part of the concrete street may be drawn over the cliff.

Several places were struck by lightning Monday night.
On the upper Milwaukee river, the floods surrounded summer cottages and rose to within a foot of floors. Farm lands to the north along the river were inundated. The water was so high that there was no im-

MEAD STOCK UP IN STORM PREDICTION
Uncanny, supernatural, extraordinary—and all the other adjectives of things strange were on the lips of the taxpayers of Janesville Tuesday night and Tuesday morning when they began to realize the full extent of the severe storm. They referred to the prediction of Mead-Janesville weather prophet.

While the blizzard of a week ago was still fresh, Mead, who had predicted that storm, declared that a flood of large dimensions was due about April 22. He was not far from the mark. The first rain came on that day, and the storm is not over. At that time Mead said that the storm period would be of three or four days' duration.

Hills in his almanac predicted a severe storm period between the 16 and 26th. The blizzard came on the 16th. Monday was the 25th.

mediate danger about the city Tuesday, but the weather man's forecast brought worries.
At Janesville the heavy wind and rain, which came from the southwest passing to the northeast, tore down telegraph, telephone and power wires. At Sau Claire the storm was accompanied by heavy rain and hail, leaving one-half inch of water. Reports of storm damage also were received from Oshkosh, Neenah and Janesville.

ROOFS BLOWN OFF, BARN SLOTTED BY DOWN RAIN STORM
Warren.—The semi-tornado of Monday night accompanied by a heavy rain, caused little damage in the Wisconsin River valley. The Wisconsin river is a little above normal, but is receding.

At Hatley, Wis., the roof of the warehouse of the Farmers Supply company was blown off and a store front blown in. Several barns, streets, covered in a two foot lake at Milwaukee and Main streets during the shower at 9 o'clock Monday night. Sidewalks on both sides between Third and Main streets were washed away.

THE GIRL WHO HAD NO CHANCE

By Marion Rubincam

CHAPTER XVIII. DISOLUTION

Ruth turned over the last page of the paper, and laid it down with a sigh.

She was too generous by nature to envy anyone, especially the chum she loved so much. She was truly glad Myra was having a good time. Her letter read like the story of some of the magazines she picked up at the library.

Root gardens, motors, dances, low-cut dresses, glittering jewelry, sweeping trains, and all the latest fashions were there. Cousin Emily had a Pomeranian dog, too. The ladies in the magazines stories always had.

Myra thought of Tim for a while, turned towards the city. With Myra's letter as a start, she let her imagination run on with that other life. She pictured Myra in a lovely evening gown, something that would make her pretty eyes still more striking, something that would bring out the glints in her wavy golden hair. She would wave slowly, scattering a faint, elusive perfume as she waited it to and fro—it was always that way in the stories.

Ruth pictured her in a lovely evening gown, something that would make her pretty eyes still more striking, something that would bring out the glints in her wavy golden hair. She would wave slowly, scattering a faint, elusive perfume as she waited it to and fro—it was always that way in the stories.

But she would have all the other things, the real things of life—love, and Tim, and a home. And when she came back to her, she would be poor, and she would not have any low-cut gowns to wear.

But she would have all the other things, the real things of life—love, and Tim, and a home. And when she came back to her, she would be poor, and she would not have any low-cut gowns to wear.

Myra, after all, won't get anything from this but a lot of dances and clothes and men, which she would have on a smaller scale at home. To me, it would mean a chance to learn—to learn to make something of myself, to give my Mother comfort and my Father peace and happiness. Why, when I want to work, can't I have the chance?

But she felt ashamed of herself for even this approach to envy. She was glad Myra was having a good time. As she folded the letter and put it in its envelope she noticed a P. S. scrawled on the back of the page.

Remember me to Tim and ask him when he's coming to the city. I've told Cousin Emily he's the handsomest man in Pennsylvania.

Ruth smiled a little. She had Tim. And what else could she want? She had his love, his devotion; she had his presence to strengthen her when things went badly.

"I needn't stop coming to see me," she had told him. "We will go on being just as nice friends as we were before."

She got up and went through the household duties, working swiftly and efficiently as her mother had.

Household Hints

MENU HINT Breakfast: Grape Fruit, Bacon and Eggs, Coffee, Luncheon: Lettuce Salad, Rice Delight, Cums and Jelly, Stewed Eggs, Hot Chocolate, Dinner: Green Tea Soup, Boiled Carrots, Spinach (cooked with tomato), Baked Potatoes, Fruit Salad, Individual Custard, Coffee.

RECIPES FOR A DAY Rice Delight—Boil one-half cup rice, one can tomatoes, one onion, one tablespoon cheese, salt and pepper, one-half pound of chopped steak browned in butter. Put in a deep dish, pour sauce and rice over meat, cover with bread crumbs and brown in oven. This is a delicious dish.

Fruit Salad—Slice pineapple, two apples, two bananas, one-half grape fruit and vanilla. Mix all with olive oil and a little vinegar. Put a small ball of cream cheese in pineapple on individual dish and spread the cut fruit around it. This makes a very good dessert as well as salad. Also use dates if desired.

TO REMOVE STAINS Tea and Chocolate Stains are hard to remove. Therefore, soak them in enough water and borax, then apply boiling water as for coffee stains.

Milk Stains—Wash them out with fresh in cold water.

Blue Stains—Apply vinegar with a cloth.

Grease Stains—Place a blotter over the stain and iron with a very hot iron.

Grass Stains—Wash with naphtha soap and water, or if the colors are not delicate apply ammonia and water until the stain turns brown, then rub with naphtha soap and soak in warm water. If the goods are thick make a paste of cold raw starch and apply several times until the stains are removed.

Brass Stains—Rub either lard or olive oil on the stain, then wash with warm water and soap.

Furniture—Should leather covered chairs look shabby, boil one-half pint of linseed oil and when it is cold stir into it one-half pint of vinegar. These ingredients should be mixed thoroughly and the result bottled well.

SUGGESTIONS FOR HOUSEWIVES To Remove Shine From Black Skirts—Remove shine and clean skirts by taking warm water, putting in enough good white soap to make a good suds, then add a little vinegar to the suds. Lay skirt on table, take a brush and scrub on right side with suds (do not make it too wet) if there are spots, scrub and wipe dry. Then iron on right side until dry.

To Clean White Enamel Woodwork or White Enamel Furniture—First wash the woodwork with suds, white soap and a little common soda; then wipe cloth quite dry, dip into baking soda and rub on woodwork, wipe with clear water and wipe dry. This process brightens the enamel and makes it look like new.

To Wash China—Don't use very hot water or much soap in washing china that has much gilt on it.

Heart and Home Problems

BY ELIZABETH THOMPSON. Letters May be Addressed to Mrs. Thompson, in Care of the Gazette.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a man 36 years of age. I have been married and have a child who is with his grandparents. My wife is divorced and has been for two years. I have never cared for women since we parted. My faith in them was killed. But now—now I have met a young girl, 15 years of age, and I love her with all my heart.

I am confident that this love is returned, absolutely confident, and the only thing that keeps me from marrying her is the difference in our ages. The girl I am speaking of is quiet, sweet and home-loving. She does not care about the life of a girl that age usually cares for. She is wonderfully innocent and pure, and she is positive she will be happy with me. She says that she understands fully what I mean when I speak of the difference in our ages, but she is doing, and, in fact, she laughs at me for thinking our ages could make any difference. I am afraid that the years pass by and I will grow older than she reaches the bloom of her life she will look upon me with aversion. She says she will not—that she never cared for boys.

What can I do to prevent him from being that way? UNTHOUGHTFUL. You are very foolish to give up other friends and chances. The young man has no right to ask such a thing of you, since you and he are not engaged. He likes you, but he does not love you; if he did, he would not be in the least interested in other girls or in dances unless he loved you.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a girl 21 and have been going with a fellow for about a year. Recently we quarreled and now I find I really care for him. Although I have been with him for a year, I do not enjoy his company.

What shall I do? I am a girl 21 and have been going with a fellow for about a year. Recently we quarreled and now I find I really care for him. Although I have been with him for a year, I do not enjoy his company.

Answers to Inquiries I do not believe that it makes any column quite as interesting when I cannot publish the Column-club members' letters, but only these answers. But you are sending me so many letters that I must do this sometimes in order ever to get them all answered.

A Group of Girls—When an engagement (or a marriage) is announced, the man is always to be congratulated upon winning the girl, while the young lady is to be wished much happiness.

Why don't they let Debs out, Joe? From all I understand he hasn't got a prison temperance and won't outline his sentence, and in that case why of course he'll never have a chance not to repeat his offense, so nobody will ever know whether his sentence did him any good or not, so the government will love all that money and trouble for nothing. If you see what I mean.

Love, TESSIE.

The Letters of Tessie and Joe

DEAR TESSIE: My Finnish maid Hilma's newly immigrated she-cousin Svenska has got a job somewhere in town, and the part of the day she's not calling Hilma up on the telephone Hilma is calling her up, which of course is six of one and half a dozen of the other as far as I am concerned. Every time I want to use the telephone in my mother tongue I find it already in use in Finnish, and believe me Joe it's coming to be funny, and in fact never was.

Another angle to the situation is that several times friends of mine have called up and the operator has switched them on the wire and imagine their surprise and shock when these 100 per cent American callers found themselves intimidated by a flood of rapid Finnish! So I finally gave Hilma a piece of my mind by means of the sign language and I gave her to understand as plain as the nose on her face that hereafter when she wants to exchange Finnish with her cousin during business hours she'll have to go down to the drug store and use the pay station.

Naturally she objected to this till finally by a great stroke of good management I promised to give her the nickel to phone with any time, and so this I left her with the impression that she had won her point after all, which of course is the aim of all good diplomacy.

Why don't they let Debs out, Joe? From all I understand he hasn't got a prison temperance and won't outline his sentence, and in that case why of course he'll never have a chance not to repeat his offense, so nobody will ever know whether his sentence did him any good or not, so the government will love all that money and trouble for nothing. If you see what I mean.

Love, TESSIE.

UNTHOUGHTFUL. You are very foolish to give up other friends and chances. The young man has no right to ask such a thing of you, since you and he are not engaged. He likes you, but he does not love you; if he did, he would not be in the least interested in other girls or in dances unless he loved you.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a girl 21 and have been going with a fellow for about a year. Recently we quarreled and now I find I really care for him. Although I have been with him for a year, I do not enjoy his company.

What shall I do? I am a girl 21 and have been going with a fellow for about a year. Recently we quarreled and now I find I really care for him. Although I have been with him for a year, I do not enjoy his company.

Answers to Inquiries I do not believe that it makes any column quite as interesting when I cannot publish the Column-club members' letters, but only these answers. But you are sending me so many letters that I must do this sometimes in order ever to get them all answered.

A Group of Girls—When an engagement (or a marriage) is announced, the man is always to be congratulated upon winning the girl, while the young lady is to be wished much happiness.

Why don't they let Debs out, Joe? From all I understand he hasn't got a prison temperance and won't outline his sentence, and in that case why of course he'll never have a chance not to repeat his offense, so nobody will ever know whether his sentence did him any good or not, so the government will love all that money and trouble for nothing. If you see what I mean.

Love, TESSIE.

"Darling"—Rad ink may represent an insult or love, as you think, in some people's foolish imaginations. To sensible folks, it merely represents poor taste. You write with black or blue-black ink, and pay no attention to the others.

F. A. V. N. E. S. I. M. S.—If you know the party is in celebration of a birthday, it is customary to take a gift whether you know the person or not; your acceptance of their invitation makes you more or less a friend you see. Make your farewells to both the person and the parents.

"Mary"—Please send me your name and address, so I can write you a personal letter about the disfigurement that is making you so sad.

"H. L. & T."—If you two had been really good friends you would not have let any other girl spoil your friendship. That is the most beautiful thing about friendship—we always have room in our hearts for one more friend, without hurting the friends already there one bit.

"Pearl W."—Why bother about the pictures of actresses if it angers you? You don't have to have them, and you'll be much happier if you avoid trouble and try to get on with your father—it's a little thing to give up for the sake of peace. I would.

"Waiting"—I certainly would not give your picture to a young man of whom you know nothing. Give him your address if you think you would care to hear from him. But not the picture!

"The Reader"—You must send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for a reply to your inquiries.

All inquiries addressed to Miss Page in care of the "What Shall I Do?" department will be answered in these columns in their turn. This requires considerable time, however, owing to the great number received. So if a personal or quicker reply is desired, a stamped and self-addressed envelope must be enclosed with the questions. The Editor.

Anti-Vamping Bill to Protect Sanctity of Home

Charlestown, W. Va.—An "anti-vamping" bill, designed to protect the sanctity of the home, has been introduced in the West Virginia legislature by Senator Harmer of Charlestown. The measure provides that if any husband or wife suspects another person of being unfaithful with his or her mate, they may appear before a justice of the peace, swear to the facts in the case, and then send a written warning to the person lavishing the attention upon the said mate. In event the recipient of the warning fails to take heed and cease the "vamping" method, the justice shall cause his or her arrest, summon them into court, and, if adjudged guilty of the charge, a fine of up to $100 shall be assessed.

AMERICANS PLAN SHRINE FOR POETS

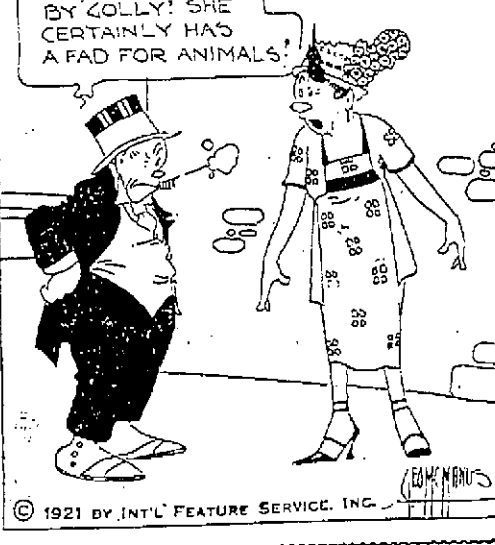

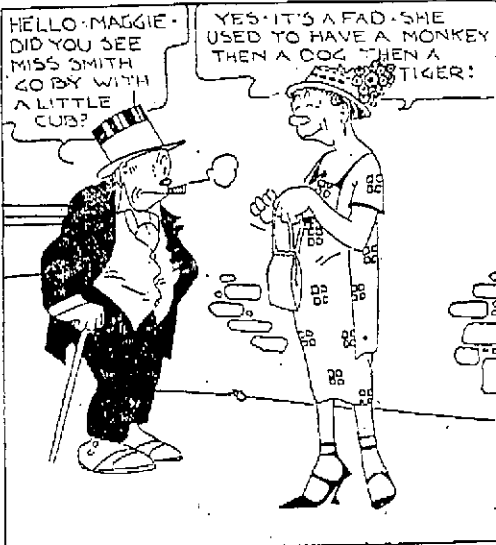

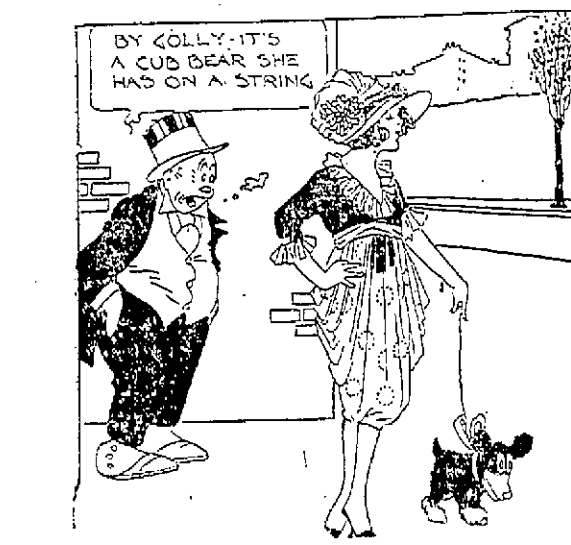

New York—Plans are under way to establish an American shrine for the poets, to be known as the House of Poets. The institution will be located somewhere in the city of the Palace of Song in London, and will be the home of the American poets of the poets, as the English poets of the poets.

The house, to be erected at a cost of perhaps $100,000, will combine the functions of club and clearing house for all American poets guilty of versification in any form. The first dean to be nominated for the honor of making his home there is Edwin Markham, author of "The Man With the Hoe" and many books of verse.

Leading poets throughout the country already have become interested in the project. Robert Mackay, acting chairman of the committee, said. Among those who have already taken interest in the idea are Ralph Waldo Emerson, Dr. Henry Van Dyke, Zona Gale, Don Marquis, Eugene O'Neill, Roosevelt Robinson, George M. Judd, Henry Irving Dowe, Blanche Sweeney and Wagnon and many others.

The young man and others in the class were learning to operate the saw under the direction of Joseph Yohli, when the latter was called to the telephone. The instructor shut off the saw and instructed the students not to operate it until his return. According to reports, Koral disobeyed orders and started the saw.

Elks' hall Tuesday afternoon took on all the aspects of a boxing arena. Fighters, seconds, managers and matchmakers made it the center for many workouts for Wednesday night's Elks' bouts at Myers theatre. Headquarters for the batsmen will weigh in at 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoon.

Johnny Hagen, the 118 pounder, who is down to scrap with Frankie Jammatti, in the semi-final, has hit a streak of hard luck. During training at Charley White's gym in Chicago, his sparring partner gave him a cut over his eye. Jammatti, who is in the pink of condition, will probably attempt to reopen it.

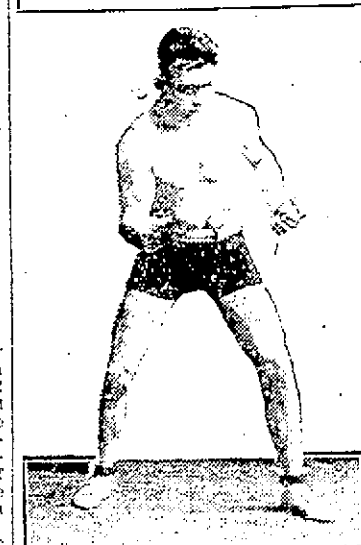

Delavan Comes in.

Rosy, with the perfection of a couple of weeks in which he has done nothing but whip himself into shape, Omaha "Kid" Schiller rules a favorite over Toledo Johnny Lewis. Johnny is no slouch, however, dropping into town with a nifty record to back up his claims that the Kid will have to step on him.

Delavan, whose big boy, 600 Cullin, is matched with Jack Brosnan of Chicago in the second, again at 175 pounds, is coming to town strong to sell for his hero. Already tickets have been disposed of in the lake town. Cullin is in tip-top condition. His manager, "Doc" Poindexter, is a clinician.

In changing the seating arrangement on the stage, four inches of knee space has been given. Thirty-inch boards have been used and foot-boards put in.

Beloit Judge Boosts Janesville Ball Club

Good sportsmanship is appreciated everywhere. Fans of Beloit have come to the aid of Janesville in keeping its baseball team during a difficult period. The latest to come to the fore is Judge John B. Clark of the municipal court of the Gateway City. In sending a check for $5 to become a member of the Tractor City Athletic Association, he writes:

"Every true Beloit fan recognizes true allegiance to the Fairies, yet, we admire and encourage your efforts in endeavoring to give Janesville good baseball. Hoping the fellow's success."

Mid-week Game Wednesday; Tractors Play Chisholm

Janesville Tractors play their first game with the Chisholm, Minn., outfit Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock. This was announced Tuesday morning. General admission of 50 cents will be charged with no extra fee for the grandstand.

The game is booked in order to give employees of the stores, which close Wednesday afternoon, an opportunity to witness a midweek game. In addition, it is arranged in order to afford the playing of a decisive series with Derby O'Brien's miners from the copper country.

Only one thing can hold it up, and that is too much rain. The down-pour of Monday afternoon and night have been welcomed, however, for they flattened out the infield and smoothed it off as good as a roller could do. The field is mighty speedy as it stands Tuesday morning.

Chisholm, which has been here for over a week for training, hit a bad streak of weather. They have been unable up to the present to stage any team practice. If June Pivars will hold out for a bit Tuesday, they will take to the diamond for a brief workout.

On Saturday and Sunday next, the Tractors play regularly scheduled games with the visitors.

OUTFIELDER MAKES TRIPLE PLAY ALONE

Knoxville—George Smiley, center fielder of the Knoxville team in the Appalachian League, earned a place in the baseball hall of fame Monday when he made an unassisted triple play against Jellie. With a man on first and second, a drive that had the earmarks of a sure hit was laced over second. Smiley came in fast, caught the drive, stepped on the just vacated second bag and touched out the runner from first. This is believed to be the first unassisted triple play an outfielder ever made.

Central Site Picked for Fight

New York—The arena for the Dempsey-Carpenter bout at Jersey City on July 2, will be erected on a plot known as "Boyle's thirty acres" just south of Montgomery Park, promoter Tex Rickard announced Monday.

The site of the arena is within a few minutes walk of the various ferries and the underground tube service. There are railroads, serving the southern end, passing within a few blocks of the site, while several heavy automobiles suitable for long hauls are available and parking is close to the plot.

The work of leveling the plot for the erection of the 50,000 seat arena will be begun at once.

One of the principal considerations which caused Rickard to select this site was its proximity to large railroad yards. Virtually every railroad running into Jersey City had informed him that there is steady and growing demand for special trains from points in the west and south.
